

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
June 3, 2010

Contact: Heather Henry
443-603-3125
hhenry@aawdc.org

A WEEK OF EVENTS FOCUS ON GETTING ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY RESIDENTS BACK TO WORK

Anne Arundel Workforce Development Corporation (AAWDC) announces over 60 employers representing 20 industry fields have signed up for the Spring 2010 Job Fair to be held next Thursday, June 10, 2010 from 12:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. at the AACC Arnold Campus in the David S. Jenkins Gymnasium. AAWDC will host a series of workshops leading up to the Job Fair as part of its Back to Work Week, beginning Monday, June 7, 2010.

AAWDC President and CEO Kirkland J. Murray asserts, “With the drop of unemployment from 7.1% to 6.5%, businesses are starting to hire again. The week’s events will give Anne Arundel County residents the edge they need in a competitive job market.” Back to Work Week consists of a series of free workshops at locations throughout the County to support job seekers in their search efforts. Workshops include Demystifying the Federal Employment Process, Online Applications, Resume Writing, Preparing for a Job Fair, and Job Search Tools for Older Workers. Job Fair Employers will be offering entry to senior level positions in information technology, health care, energy, business management, construction, human services, office administration, and sales. For workshop details and to view a list of job fair employers, visit www.aawdc.org or call 410-987-3890.

Anne Arundel Workforce Development Corporation (AAWDC) is a 501(c)(3) Corporation charged with providing workforce and training services to Anne Arundel County citizens and businesses. AAWDC operates seven One-Stop Career Centers that offer innovative workforce solutions to businesses and job seekers. Business services include customized recruitment assistance, job postings, business retention, training funds for incumbent workers, and workforce transportation solutions. Job seeker services include job search assistance, career guidance, career development and computer skills workshops, access to our resource center, training assistance, and supportive service referrals.

# #